The Dutch Frigate, the Frince of Orange.

HER VINITER—NEWS FOR THE JAPANIES EXPEDITION. STO.

This noble frigate has become a regulartion, and draws large concourses of ladies and gentiemen, who are delighted with the courteons and attentive reception extended to them by her gallant captain and officers Yesterdey, their leading theme was the beauty and elastical symmetry of the New York ladies, and their amiable temper in diving into all the recesses of their fine ship. For the first time we had the pleasure of an interview with Captain D Byl de Yroe, who is a perfect beau ideal of all that should constitute a naval officer and a gentlemen. "Every man." said the gallant captain to us, "is welcome to come into my cabin, no matter who he is—provided he be an honest man." That expression may be taken as an exponent of his character, and fully tallied with his noble and generous mien. We found him entertaining a party of ladies with amusing encedote and conversation, and giving them guitable advice for the proper in pection of his frigate. He is middle aged, tall, stout, and seamanlike, and we have there the such religious. ble service. The lieutenants are officers of great experience, having been engaged in active service; in fact, she is a perfect specimen of the Dutch navy, and well does she honor it. Among her mid-hipmen (a list of whom we gave yesterday), will be perceived two young gentlemen who are barons of Holland; but, unlike the corrupt, aristocratic and unfair system adopted in the British navy, they enjoy no privilege beyond their brother officers of the some rank, and are promoted according to their galiantry and service.

some rank, and are promoted according to their gallantry and service

Among the topics of our conversation which occasionally turned up, was the political institutions of our republic, its lightness of taxation, the absolute freedom of the press, and our equality, and the similarity of the free institutions and spirit of Holiand to our own, of which they are justify proud. The freedom of the press of Holiand regarding the expression of opinion, is about equal to our own, though each paper is subject to a stamp duty. The gallant officers are pretty well up in the politics of our country; and speaking of the proposed Japan pedition, one of them, who is well acquainted with Japan and its coast, and the military force of that empire, and the extent of its fortifications, was inclined to thak that the force of Commodore Perry would be found ms. Meient to accomplish a warlike negotiation; and as to a proceable one, the gallant officer assured us that the Emperor of Japan would not even hear of opening his ports to us. The two ships which the Dutch are allowed to send to Nargaraki in the Japanese empire were always strictly guarded; and upon any of the officers or men going ashore they were surrounded by a guard of a thousand men. We hear nothing of any inclination on the part of the Dutch government to interfere with our operations; but we undersand the Japanese are fully rations to give us a war reception. So look out, Commentency, outward bound, was also duly saluted, which compliment she returned. It was Mr. Testa, the Dutch Minister at Washington, that was saluted on Wednesday with eleven guns, and not Commander Mercer of the navy, as erroneously stated in yesterday's imper silon.

The city authorities must lose no time in doing the same, and show no official dilatoriness. The forenoon of Saturday will be occupied in a general, washing and scrubbing of the decks; therefore the attend-nuce of ladies at that time will be entirely out of the question, however partial some of them may be to similar exhibitions at home

May 20 — Endeavor to make a Revolt, and Assaults with Dangerous Weapons.—Samuel Reed and William Jackson, two colored seamen of the bark Peytona, were this morning brought up on the charge of endeavoring to make revolt, and committing assaults with deathly weapons. A number of witnesses were examined by Mr. Ridgeway, who appeared for the United States; which showed that, on the 22d of April last, two degrees west of the Azoros, Reed used abusive and mutinous language to the officers, assaulted them with a hatchet and sheath knife, threatening to kill thum; and, at another time, assaulted the capitain and both unates with a marling spike. The eviderree against Jackson-was not so strong and he was accordingly discharged. Reed was held for trial.
